Indices

The indices pertain only to items in the word lists. That is, there are no references here to personal or possessive pronouns (see §3.8.2.2-3), to deictics (see §3.8.12.1), or to numerals and measure units (see §3.8.13). The numbers after each item refer to the Comparative Austronesian Dictionary word list number of the item (see §3.1 for further details). There are indices for the following languages:

- English
- Indonesian
- Balaesang
- Dampelas
- Petapa Taje
- Tanampedagi Taje
- Pendau
- Tajio
- Ampibabo Lauje
- Lauje
- Tialo
- Dondo
- Totoli
- Boano

The indices have been compiled automatically. That is, they are indices of the word-forms as they occur in the word lists. In general, only the very first form that appears in an entry (either at the beginning or after a comma) has been included. Note that different numbers for identical forms may be due to homophony or to polysemy!

The glottal stop (<') ranks higher than any other letter. And <ß>, which represents a voiced bilabial fricative, occurs in between  and .

A second set of indices provides cross-references to the following word lists (see §3.1):

- Holle List
- Sulawesi Umbrella Word List
- Swadesh/Gudschinsky 200-item word list
- Swadesh 100-item word list
